

Inspiration from Destruction:
Artist Blake Ward donates to clear landmines in Afghanistan

(Toronto - May 22, 2008) The Canadian Landmine Foundation would like to thank distinguished artist Blake Ward for his generous contribution to landmine removal. Blake's exhibition of Bronze sculptures entitled 'Fragments' was inspired by post-war Vietnam where the destruction of landmines is still clearly visible. Each sculpture represents how landmines continue to harm lives long after the hostilities have ended. Proceeds from this series will help fund the removal of landmines in the province of Nagarhar in Afghanistan. To visit the Fragments website please go to www.blakefragments.com.

The Canadian Landmine Foundation is a managing partner in the global Adopt-A-Minefield campaign for landmine action with partners in the United States, the United Kingdom and Sweden. We strive to rid the world of landmines and alleviate the human and economic suffering they cause. Please visit www.clmf.org for more details.

Thank you for helping to clear a path to a safer world.
